Stabbing called attempted murder

► Accused allegedly assaulted group of people in northern downtown park ► When victim intervened, fist fight ensued and accused left park, police say ► Accused allegedly returned and stabbed victim

A scuffle between some people gathered in a park downtown turned ugly and led to an attempted murder charge, police said yesterday.

A 45-year-old man is in stable condition in hospital today after being stabbed multiple times near Higgins Avenue and Main Street on Tuesday afternoon.

Police said yesterday the victim was with a number of people gathered in a park near the intersection when a man began assaulting some people.

The victim intervened to stop the fighting and some punches were thrown between the two men, police said.

Neither was injured, and the alleged instigator left the park, only to return a few minutes later and stab the victim, police said.

The knifing was halted when two bystanders stepped in, according to Const. Natalie Aitken.

Witnesses flagged down officers who arrested a 30-year-old suspect.

The Crown recommended a charge of attempted murder against Kevin George Daniels, police said. The charge was deemed "the most appropriate," Aitken said.

He remains in custody and is also facing charges of carrying a concealed weapon along with multiple counts of uttering threats and assault with a weapon.

Teens charged in Portage Avenue fire

A 17-year-old male was arrested yesterday and charged with two counts of arson related to a fire at the Unicity Wal-Mart in late April.

The fire started at the back of a department store in a stack of wooden palettes. There were no injuries, but damages were estimated at $100,000 to the building and $200,000 to merchandise.

The Arson Strike Force found the cause of the fire suspicious and two suspects were identified. A 15-year-old male was arrested on May 25 and is facing the same charges.

► Canad Inns Stadium is scheduled to be demolished after the upcoming CFL season.

Outdated stadium played role in death of fan: Judge

► Judge wants safety improvements to be made at Canad Inns Stadium — slated for demolition after this season — after a fan fell to his death

Andrew Szabo died slowly after a drunken fall from the stands at a Canadian Football League game.

Lying in a Winnipeg hospital for hours, doctors oblivious to his many broken bones and internal bleeding, Szabo eventually went into shock before physicians realized there was something seriously wrong.

Yesterday, a provincial court judge ruled that outdated stadium stands, and a failure to run X-rays and other basic tests contributed to the 52-year-old man's death.

"I conclude that Mr. Szabo's death was preventable," Judge Mary Kate Harvie wrote in her report. "The recommendations in this report identify for consideration areas of improvement at the Canad Inns Stadium, for changes to the pre-hospital system, as well as recommendations for the enhancement of care of trauma patients at community hospitals."

Szabo was an alcoholic and had consumed liquor before arriving at the stadium in August 2006, his widow, Barbara, testified at the inquest.

He had just come back from ordering two beers at the start of the game and stood up to go meet a friend when he tripped, tumbled down the stairs and through a guardrail. He fell roughly six metres to the concrete below. Paramedics took him to the nearby Grace Hospital instead of the city's main trauma unit at the Health Sciences Centre downtown.

The guardrails in the stadium's north-end stands should be upgraded immediately, Harvie recommended. She also said building inspectors should assess handrails, steps and other parts of the aging stands to see whether more improvements are needed.

The judge urged federal and provincial agencies that set national building codes to consider making them retroactive for stadiums, hockey arenas and other public facilities. Currently, older buildings only have to upgrade their safety measures if they undergo a major renovation.

Parking ban set for winter

🟡 Council votes on daytime ban to allow plowing on streets
 🟡 Approves handing over health inspections

ELISHA DACEY
@METRONEWS.CA

There were no surprises at Winnipeg city council yesterday.

Council voted for a plan that would allow daytime residential parking bans to help snowplows clear streets faster this winter.

The parking ban on residential streets will rotate in two shifts: a 12-hour day shift and a 12-hour night shift.

For communities with high density, street parking will be banned on every other street to allow people to move their cars.

Council also voted to spend $250,000 on an awareness campaign for the ban.

During the same council meeting, council officially handed the reins over to the province for health inspections.

Mayor Sam Katz said that the move made sense, since city inspectors handle the core area while provincial inspectors handle the suburbs, leading to differing standards.

However, Coun. Russ Wyatt said he wasn't sure the move was a good idea, since the province has one inspector for every 75,000 people while the city has an inspector for every 12,000.

New wakeboard park making world-class waves

It's simple enough for kids, it's environmentally friendly and it's designed to host world-class sporting events.

The wakeboarding park opening July 1 at Adrenaline Adventures uses a cable system to pull wakeboarders around a 10-acre, oval-shaped lake. Up to seven boarders can ride at once and a second, three-acre training lake is a less-intimidating option for beginners.

"It allows for a lot of people who don't have a wakeboarding boat or boating licence," said Jason Rohs, owner of Adrenaline Adventures. "You can just come down if you're 14, 13 or four years old, and we look after the transportation around the lake for you."

There is also less buzz from the electronic motor. "It's no louder than if someone were having a conversation," said Rohs.

The park's cable system simulates wakeboarding behind a boat, but there is not as much pressure on the body and it's easier for doing tricks and propelling yourself in the air.

Wakeboard Canada designated the park as the national training facility for cable wakeboarding. From July 8-10, the park will host the World Wakeboard Association Monster Triple Crown and WWA Wake Park World Series.

"We're going to have the best of the best wakeboarders from all across the world, from the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. We've got riders booking hotels at a fast and furious pace now."

Adrenaline Adventures also offers zip lines and wall climbing towers.

Frances to meet royalty ... 72 years later

An Alberta senior who missed her opportunity to meet royalty 72 years ago is getting a second chance.

Frances Miller — now 81 — will get to meet Prince William and his wife, Catherine, when they visit Calgary next month.

In 1939, Miller was dressed in her finest and had a bouquet that she was supposed to present to Queen Elizabeth, who later became known as the Queen Mother, when she and King George stopped in her Alberta community.

Because of some communication glitch, the train carrying the royal couple didn't stop as scheduled and just blew through the station.

The king waved back to the platform as the train went by.

"It seems like a dream."

FRANCES MILLER

Miller says she never thought she would get another chance to meet royalty and she still can't believe her luck.

Miller's local newspaper, the Medicine Hat News, spearheaded a campaign to include Miller in the royal itinerary at the last minute.

The newspaper says on its website Miller was contacted by the Prime Minister's Office to arrange the details.

"After hearing Mrs. Miller's touching story, we're pleased to be able to say that Mrs. Miller will have a role in the visit of the royal couple," said Andrew MacDougall, press secretary for the Prime Minister's Office.

KLM to run planes on old cooking oil

► EU has told airlines to cut carbon emissions by three per cent on continental flights in 2012

Dutch airline KLM plans to use recycled cooking oil as biofuel to power flights to and from France in a move aimed at cutting carbon emissions.

In September, KLM will begin more than 200 biofuelled flights between Paris and Amsterdam, the company said yesterday.

Camiel Eurlings, KLM managing director, said the airline does not have to make changes to its aircraft engines to use the new biofuel. As well as reducing carbon emissions, the biofuel flights are intended to produce a "minimum negative impact on biodiversity and food supply."

Eurlings said he expects authorization to be granted soon for KLM's flights using the new fuel.

The European Union told airlines this year that they would have to cut carbon emissions on flights to the continent by three per cent in 2012.

DUST BUNNIES MAKE GOOD PETS, THOUGH

HE SAYS ...

JOHN MAZEROLLE
METRO

My parents are visiting soon, which is exciting because it means I have to clean my apartment.

That's an unprecedented opportunity. Like an athlete playing for a championship, this live-alone bachelor will stand with a wash bucket filled to the brim with determination and think, "Chances like this come but once in a lifetime."

You might assume that if I wanted my apartment to be clean I could fix it up any time I want, but it's not that simple.

First of all, my apartment gets messy without my knowledge. I'm not sure how it happens, but I'll leave the odd book lying around, a stray load of laundry, a whole roast chicken and — bam! — my apartment is messy.

It's not a big place, my apartment, but it has ninja skills and sneaks up on me.

An example: Just months ago, I had a typical bachelor fridge — one bottle of ketchup and a box of baking soda. But now, inexplicably, it's packed. Not with edible food, but with homemade Accidental Soup, newly created dried fruit, and products stamped with expiry dates that evoke nostalgia. I don't know which came first, but the chicken died of old age before these eggs were eaten.

My second problem is that I'm a guy.

I don't know how many times women have warned me that their apartment is an "absolute mess." Then we step inside and there's an open magazine and half a glass of red wine. If I lay my eyes on either, they run over to remove it as if I had just discovered a human head.

Guys go through the absolute mess spiel, too, but we mean it. A glass and a magazine would not qualify. More likely we would consider that suitably sterile for a kidney transplant.

A bit messy might involve ketchup stains on the wall and chomped cigar bits on the floor. An absolute mess would involve livestock.

But here's the thing: I want my apartment to be clean. I often do clean, but it always seems to be at the surface level — the top third of the dirty clothes get washed over and over, while the bottom two-thirds are left only with unfulfilled dreams.

With my parents arriving soon, I finally have the driving force I need to see what lies at the bottom of the hamper. Unless my parents read this and decide to stay somewhere nicer, such as a gas station bathroom.

Don't show them this, please. I'm not ready to come clean just yet.

Worth mentioning

LONDON. A handgun once owned by gangster Al Capone sold for nearly $110,000 US yesterday at an auction in London.

The Colt .38 revolver was manufactured in 1929, the year of the St. Valentine's Day Massacre, when seven people were slain during clashes in Chicago between Capone's gang and a rival mob.

Auctioneer Christie's says the gun went for $109,080 US to an anonymous online bidder.

It was sold by an anonymous private collector along with a letter from Madeleine Capone Morichetti, the widow of Al Capone's brother Ralph, confirming the gun "previously belonged to and was on only used by Al Capone while he was alive."

The sale price was at the upper end of the pre-sale estimate of between $80,000 and $113,000. It includes a buyer's premium.

New York-born mobster Alphonse (Al) Capone dominated the Chicago underworld during Prohibition until his 1931 arrest for tax evasion.

Capone died in 1947.

Little leadfoot just wanted to see his dad

A seven-year-old boy, barefoot and in pyjamas, drove a car for 30 kilometres, sometimes hitting speeds of 80 km/h, before finally slowing down and stopping with the help of authorities.

"He was crying and just kept saying he wanted to go to his dad's," Caseville, Mich., police Chief Jamie Learman said. "That was pretty much it. He just wanted to go to his dad's."

Police began looking for the Pontiac Sunfire around 10:15 a.m. Monday after someone called about a very young driver.

The boy was staying with his mother in Huron County's Sheridan Township, a rural area 180 kilometres north of Detroit. She had worked the night shift and was unaware her son and the car were gone.

The boy had hoped to drive to his father's home in Fillion, also in northern Michigan. Police pulled him over in a 90 km/h zone in Caseville Township, some 25 kilometres to the west.

Learman told the Detroit Free Press he has seen drivers younger than 15, but not someone this young.

Manitoba's MEME is starting to trend

JARED STORY
METRO WINNIPEG

Rave on. Featuring some of Winnipeg's and the world's best DJs and VJs, the Manitoba Electronic Music Exhibition (MEME) — starting tonight at Whiskey Dix — will be a wild party, but the festival is much more than techno and glow sticks.

"There are still a lot of people who have the wrong impression of what electronic music is," says Nathan Zahn, 32, electronic music DJ/promoter and director of MEME. "You have pop, electro, trance and club music, which are all fun, especially if you're younger, but beyond that there's much more sophisticated electronic music. Just like in jazz or rock, there's elevated music. This festival in our opinion is the best of electronic music, a little more artsy and intellectual, but still fun, party music."

MEME — now in its second year — was started by Zahn and a few other Winnipeg electronic music enthusiasts, including Balanced Records and production company Symptom Technologies. In addition to club shows, the festival features a special workshop component and three free all-day outdoor concerts at The Cube. Last year's sole Old Market Square show was a surprising success.

"There had to be at least 1000 people in attendance for the last hour and a half," says Zahn. "I go to a lot of shows and I didn't recognize a lot of the people, which I loved. They were dressed well, dancing to techno and having fun. This year, weather permitting, I don't see why we won't have thousands of people out, Saturday night especially."

Full festival passports are $40 and available at Kustom Culture. Individual event tickets range from $10 to $20 and are available at Kustom Culture and Into the Music. For venue, show times and event information go to memetic.ca.

Draper cashes in

Don Draper is getting job security and a raise.

Jon Hamm, who plays 1960s advertising executive Draper on AMC's Mad Men, has signed a new contract with series studio Lionsgate Television Group. Hamm's publicist, Slate PR, said Tuesday that the deal keeps him with the show for three more years. The actor will receive a substantial raise for the upcoming fifth season. By the contract's final year, he'll earn more than $250,000 an episode, Variety.com reported, citing unidentified sources.

Train produces wine for their fans

The Grammy-winning group Train has been making waves with its wine club, and now, the trio is taking the next step with its own wine.

Starting next week, fans will be able to buy Drops of Jupiter Petite Sirah wine from Train's online wine club and other outlets. The name is a nod to one of Train's earlier hits, and is produced by the group's wine company, Save Me, San Francisco Wine Co., which takes its title from a Train album.

But Train guitarist Jimmy Stafford said the wine venture isn't an attempt to make a profit on the Train name — it's more about creating something special for fans.

"We're not really trying to get into the wine business or anything. It's really kind of helping to spread the name out there, and something for our fans," he said in a phone interview Tuesday.

Train, which won a Grammy Award this year for Hey, Soul Sister, has had an online wine club for a while. The group promotes a wine of the month, has a blog and even an app.

Harry and Pippa getting friendly?

While their siblings enjoy being newlyweds, Prince Harry and Pippa Middleton have reportedly been spending some quality time together, according to Grazia.

"They speak on the phone all the time and have met up at least five times since the wedding, once for tea at his Clarence House apartments," a source says.

"She thinks he's got a really cheeky sense of humour."

The pair have something else in common as well, as they're both recently single.

Something happened when Kate and Pippa Middleton made their way up the steps to Westminster Abbey in April. The sisters weren't just claiming their new roles as tabloid obsessions, they were also ushering in a trend for conservative and preppy dressing not necessarily sanctioned by the runway or magazine editors or even the whims of street style.

The Middletons are the respectable foil to Gaga's outlandishness.

Their skirt lengths are modest. They wear nude stockings. Their blouses are tucked in. And their shoes aren't too high.

They're the daughters of multi-millionaire parents. Yet in a strange way, their personal style — touched by nary a Rachel Zoe or Nicola Formichetti — represents that of average working girls everywhere, women who can't afford stylists or don't want the hassle of walking around in tall Jimmy Choos. Give a whole new meaning to the term 'chicken night'

► This dish has the flavour of lasagna with the substance of chicken ► It takes 20 minutes to make

The goal was a simple chicken casserole that had the rich, satisfying flavour of a lasagna.

Actually, that's a lie. The goal was a chicken roulade — a dish in which chicken breasts are pounded flat, then slathered or layered with some sort of filling, then rolled into a log and roasted or braised.

Except my roulade didn't co-operate. During roasting, the cheesy innards oozed out all over the baking sheet, then promptly burned. The result was an ugly mess.

Then it occurred to me: If the cheese wanted to ooze out of the chicken, why not reverse the dish and start it that way. And thus was born this simple chicken casserole that

Ingredients:

- 250 ml (1 cup) ricotta cheese
- 250 ml (1 cup) shredded mozzarella
- 500 ml (2 cups) prepared, roasted red peppers, drained, dred and diced
- 1 egg
- 7 ml (1/2 tbsp) lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) each dried oregano and basil
- 3 ml (3/4 tsp) salt
- 1 ml (1/4 tsp) ground black pepper
- 15 ml (1 tbsp) olive oil
- 625 g (1 1/4 lb) boneless, skinless chicken breasts, cut into 2.5-cm (1-inch) chunks
- 175 ml (3/4 cup) panko breadcrumbs
- 30 ml (2 tbsp) butter, melted

tastes like a lasagna.

The chicken can be served over a bed of noodles or rice. It also could be spooned into a sub roll.

Preparation:

- 1 Heat oven to 200 C (400 F). Coat a 20-cm-by-28-cm (8-by-11-inch) baking pan with cooking spray.
- 2 In a medium bowl, mix together ricotta cheese, mozzarella, red peppers, egg, lemon juice, garlic, oregano, basil, salt and pepper. Set aside.
- 3 In a large skillet over medium-high, heat oil. Add all of the chicken and cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned, 6 to 8 minutes. It does not need to cook through. Transfer chicken to prepared baking pan. Pour cheese mixture over chicken, then stir gently to combine.

- 4 In a bowl, mix the panko and butter. Sprinkle the panko over chicken, then bake for 25 minutes or until the breadcrumbs are browned and chicken is cooked all the way through.

Morocco is influenced by the many cultures that surround it.

Acting as a crossroads between the east and west, north and south, Moroccan decor blends styles from France, Portugal and Spain from the northwest, with strong African, Persian, and Islamic influences from the south and east.

This results in a unique and inspirational style specific to Morocco.

Want to create the perfect ethnic-inspired grotto or outdoor retreat? Here's a few elements to consider incorporating.

Strong Moroccan colours

Colour is the focal point of Moroccan decorating.

Use colours like turquoise blue and bright green, mixed metallics like gold and silver for nighttime glitter, and rich reds and oranges that conjure up images of African sunsets.

Moroccan-style furnishings

Interior spaces are busy

► Moroccan-style beds and sofas are inviting and set low to the ground.

SYMMETRY PRINT: Artwork that looks like tiles help give a handmade exotic feel to the walls.

Romantic lighting

► Dim lighting can be achieved by lamps and pendants made from coloured glass, cut metal and carved wood.

► Using candles in traditional lamps will add the romantic element of moving light to your decor and exotic scents.

► Simple glass votives wrapped on the outside with colourful cellophane paper will also add an inexpensive and colourful flicker to your space.

Floors in Moroccan interiors

Floors of dark hardwood are covered with plush Persian rugs, and stacked floor cushions create the perfect base for a Moroccan-style room.

Ceramic tile is often used for flooring and gives a cooling effect underfoot.

Plants for Moroccan decor

Placed in large, colourful pots or baskets, exotic plants such as banana trees or papyrus help to create an oasis-like feel in a Moroccan-style home.

Overhead umbrellas and canopies

Richly coloured sheer or silk swagged over seating or dining areas or mosquito netting over beds add a mysterious touch, reminiscent of desert bazaar tents.

How provocative!

Sensual Moroccan scents

Choose candles, incense, or diffusers in scents rich with spices like cinnamon, nutmeg, saffron, or any exotic spices.

Keep kids away from lawn mowers

► Tips to help keep them safe

Some Canadians may already be getting their fill of cutting the grass, but that doesn't mean lawn mower operators should be lax when it comes to safety.

Between 1990 and 2006, a total of 1,161 patients visited Canadian hospitals for lawn mower-related injuries, according to Health & Safety Watch.

Here are some tips from the organization to ensure safety around lawn mowers:

- Never allow children to play on a lawn mower, even if it is turned off
- Never allow a child to ride on a riding lawn mower with you
- Keep children indoors and do not allow children to play nearby while you are mowing
- Children should be at least 12 before operating any lawn mower and at least 16 to operate a riding mower
- Before mowing pick up stones, toys and debris from the lawn to prevent injuries from flying objects
- Wear shoes, not sandals, and use eye and hearing protection
- Start and refuel mowers outdoors, never in a garage
- Refuel with the motor turned off and cool
- Only adults should adjust blade settings
- While mowing, use mowers with automatic shutdown abilities, such as those with a control that stops motion when the handle is released

- Don't mow in reverse unless necessary, and watch out for others

- After mowing, wait for blades to stop completely before removing the grass catcher, unclogging the discharge chute, or crossing gravel roads.

Green lawn, green lawn mower

You might not realize it, but that old gas mower sitting in your shed is a major contributor to summertime air pollution. In fact, running an old gas-powered lawn mower for one hour can produce as much air pollution as driving a new car 550 kilometres.

There are green choices when it comes to lawn care. What you use comes down to the size of your yard and personal preference.

The greenest choice by far is a reel mower powered by you. Ideal for small, flat lawns, these simple and quiet mowers release no pollution into the atmosphere. You'll get your exercise and achieve top notch results with a durable Craftsman reel mower from Sears.

For up to half an acre, an electric or battery powered mower is a great green choice.

Compared to a gas mower, they are cleaner and quieter plus without the need for fuel, tune-ups and oil filters, you will spend less money on maintenance.

Sears offers both corded and cordless options. With a cordless electric mower you can move around the yard with ease but running time is limited to the chargeable battery power. The corded electric mower has unlimited running time but will only reach as far as the extension cord will allow. Again, the choice depends on preference and yard size.

Gas powered mowers

► There are lots of options for reducing the pollution of a traditional gas-powered lawn mower.

are ideal for large lawns, but they release pollutants into the atmosphere. For a greener gas mower choose the Craftsman 22-inch front-wheel lawn mower with the Eco Plus technology engine. These mowers emit 38 per cent less exhaust emissions than current Canadian standards.

Secrets to being a savvy street shopper

- ▶ One person's trash is another person's new bedside table
- ▶ Scavenging for curbside throwaways involves risk — and reward

▶ Previously owned dresser seeks loving home.

DIY IDEAS

For those short on cash, grabbing a curbside cast-off is a viable solution to redecorating. However, thanks in large part to the bed bug epidemic, this form of recycling can lead to expensive risks.

Husband and wife design team Linda Wary and John Meyers are experts in all things vintage. Their book, Tossed & Found: Unconventional Design from Cast-Offs is all about repurposing found objects. They give us a few tips.

Walk away from upholstery
Bed bugs hide and lay eggs in almost any material, especially soft textiles.

Never bring bed frames, mattresses, box springs or upholstered furniture into your home, warns the duo.

Also: "Fabric on an upholstered chair can age and develop mould," says Wary, "and a rusty spring or staple inside a chair can break or pop out — and you don't want to sit on that."

(A deep puncture wound, such as from a spring or staple, is most susceptible to tetanus infection — see your doctor if you get pricked!)

It's a treasure hunt

When it comes to salvaging, "sometimes you can find one-of-a-kind items that you're never going to find anywhere else, like a five-panel wood door or (an art deco) piece of brass," Meyers affirms.

Sniff test

Before it's dealt with at home, smell it! "Cigarette and (urine) odours never come out," Meyers warns.

A musty smell on an end table might mean odour if it's left out in the sunlight for a day or two.

"But it depends on the severity of the smell," Wary adds. "I once left an old jacket out for an entire summer!"

Is it cost-effective to pick it up?

"Can you realistically clean it up if it's a little dirty? Or if it's a lamp, are you going to be able to rewire it if it doesn't work?" Meyers says. "If it seems impossible to fix, re-donate to the curb."

Safe bets

Glass vases or plastic storage boxes are usually reliably clean finds. "If it looks like it's in good shape, with no strange smells, don't worry about cleaning it before bringing it home," Wary says.

Expect top pick to be used on a forward

THE HOCKEY NEWS

JOHN GRIGG
WINNIPEG@METRONEWS.CA

Welcome back to the draft, Winnipeg. It's been a long winter of discontent but summer has finally arrived, and the more things change, the more they stay the same.

In 1995, your beloved Jets' final first-rounder came seventh overall. This time, the Winnipeg Whatchamacallits also pick at No. 7. Last time around the Jets selected some kid named Shane Doan, a winger from the Western Hockey League. And once again a forward is in the offing.

Your team is deep on defence with the likes of Tobias Enstrom, Dustin Byfuglien, young Zach Bogosian and a good supporting cast. In goal, Ondrej Pavelec will be 24 when the season begins and his numbers will only improve as the team around him does. Up front, Evander Kane and Alex Burmistrov are talented but still green and growing; it's too early to tell where they'll end up. On a good team, everyone else is a second-liner at best.

In the pipeline there's not much to speak of. The Atlanta Thrashers moved their first-round picks up quickly in recent years — Bogosian, Kane and Burmistrov all jumped right to the NHL from the draft. Gritty Swede Carl Klingberg, 20, could be in Winnipeg as early as next season, but he doesn't project as a scorer, which is what you hope to get in the top 10.

At No. 7, general manager Kevin Cheveldayoff isn't likely to get any of the four most-hyped forwards — Ryan Nugent-Hopkins, Gabriel Landeskog, Sean Couturier, Jonathan Huberdeau — but there will be some intriguing kids from which to choose.

For scoring wingers, Sven Bartschi of the Portland Winterhawks led all WHL rookies in goals and points. If a playmaking centre is more Cheveldayoff's style, Ryan Strome of the Ontario Hockey League's Niagara IceDogs fits the bill. Then there's the fastest-rising prospect of them all, skilled banger Mika Zibanejad from Sweden.

Now, are any of these kids going to be the next Shane Doan? Way too early to tell. Could they be better? Anything's possible. Doan is a perennial 20-plus goal-scorer and one of the NHL's all-around good guys, a leader on and off the ice. But Doan's never scored 80 points or 35 goals, numbers any team picking in the No. 7 range hopes to see eventually.

So come tomorrow night, Winnipeg will have its newest NHLer. Whether he'll live up to or surpass what the last first-rounder to pull on a Winnipeg jersey has done will take some time. But just hope he doesn't turn out to be Steve Kelly or Terry Ryan, the two guys who sandwiched Doan in the '95 draft.

Today's horoscope

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 You don't like to admit you made a mistake but you'll have no choice today as something you started last week goes spectacularly wrong.
♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 You will have to make some serious sacrifices over the next few days.
♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 You are not in the mood to make compromises and will insist that things are done your way or not at all.
♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 Why are you running from something you fear? You should run towards it.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 23 If someone is trying to muscle in on your territory, don't make a big issue of it. Ever heard of sharing?
♍ Virgo Aug. 24-Sept. 22 What happens today, tomorrow and over the weekend will change the rules of the game you are playing.
♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 Always give yourself two, or even several, options. That is key for you.
♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 You will get the chance to make your dream come true, but it may cost you — in more than just money.

"Teen Challenge helped me get my dad back!"

— TAYLOR

I came to Teen Challenge very desperate. Surrounded by drugs and the life that comes with it. My life took a turn for the worse and I lost the opportunity to see my daughter on a regular basis. I finished the 12 month program a changed man. I've been clean for three years now, and the best part is, my girl is now part of my life full-time. — AJ
